AFTER DISCHARGING BIG FORT DE RUSSY RIFLE

After discharging the last of her cargo, a 14-inch rifle for Fort De Russy, the United States army transport Dix made ready for departure this aft-ernoon and is slated to sail for the Philippines late today.

The rifle was lifted from between decks by the aid of the big 150-ton decks by the aid of the big 150-ton floating crane from Pearl Harbor and is now on a scow. This scow will be towed opposite Fort De Russy in the channel at that place from where the gun will be taken off and removed to the battery. It is expected that it will take three weeks to get the gun off the scow and on the battery frame. Several of the Dix crew raised "rough-houses" about town last night, probably in anticipation of their de-parture today. Three of them started to "clean-out" the Aloha Aina cafe near the Honolulu Iron Works and in the process they did considerable damage to the bartender, Joe Hauser, and that individual was taken to Queen's hospital later for treatment. James Reiger threatened to do physical damage to Capt. W. J. Grangle of. the transport and the quartermaster had Reiger locked up in the city jail to be held until called for later.
